RECORD OF PAST QUARTER

Some Farms Still Left in Western Kansas and Oklahoma, But Extra Inducements Will Have to Be Made to Settle Them.

Washington, July 23.—Homesteading has about run its course in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. During the past three months only about 1,500 people made homestead entries on public land there. A few years ago that many entries would be made in most any one of the dozen or so land offices of that section. The greater activity is now shown in Southwestern Kansas and Western Oklahoma, the land offices at Dodge City and Woodward alone showing more entries than for all the other land offices combined.

The Topeka district has practically done no business during the past quarter, according to reports to the general land office. Only four cash entries and four original entries were filed and four final proofs taken. The Guthrie land office made even a worse showing than Topeka. The Lawton office reported no business, except filings on homesteads in the "Big Pasture," which were questioned off to the highest bidder last spring. El Reno reports 104 cash entries, twenty-four entries on final. Alva reports seventy-three original entries and 113 final.

But Woodward still shows signs of life. Its land office reports 437 cash entries, 238 original and 829 final. Dodge City is also in Woodward's class. Its land office reports ninety-six cash entries, 386 original entries and 178 final. The Colby, Kan., district, where business ought to be good as at Dodge City, made a poor showing. It reports nineteen cash entries, 116 original entries and forty-two final.

The only land office in Missouri is located at Springfield, and it reports 223 cash entries, 128 original and forty-seven final. These homesteads were all taken in the southern part of the state—the mountainous land is still left.

"It is only a question of a short time until the government will have to give additional inducements to secure settlers for Western Kansas and Oklahoma," said an official of the general land office. "Nearly all the good land has been taken. It will keep homesteaders scratching now to make a living off 160 acres of the land still subject to homestead entry. There are only two ways for the government to encourage settlement there. One is by irrigating all the semiarid land that it can. The other is to enlarge the homesteads. At present homesteads are limited to 160 acres. This should be increased to 400 at least. Then people would go in there and take up the rest of the public land. And 400 acres is not too much. It will take that amount to keep a family, if grazing privileges on surrounding land are curtailed. I look for some of the members of congress from that section to press legislation increasing homesteads next winter. One extraordinary representative got them increased in one land district in Western Nebraska, and there is no reason why similar legislation should not be enacted to help out Kansas and Oklahoma."

It is understood that the Missouri delegation will press a bill authorizing the government to turn over all its remaining public land in that state to the educational institution of Missouri.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the immediate questions, the examinations, examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription while in the examinations and local treatments. There is no other medicine so pure and safe for women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It is almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on the bottle wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of these numerous and strongest of professional endorsements of its ingredients, will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, also in a booklet mailed free on request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay or non-professional testimonials.

The most interesting women now-day, instead of knowing what they take to medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of known composition. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

All indications point to a mammoth corn crop in this county. Regardless of the unfavorable weather earlier in the season, the crop at the present time promises to be a bumper and with one or two rains late in July and early in August will fulfill all promises.—Osage Journal.

Long Live the King
is the popular cry throughout European countries, while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Palmer, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Palmer's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures colds, croup and sore throat after all other remedies have failed, and for coughs and colds it's the only cure. Guaranteed by W. B. Frame's City Drug Store.

INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

MISS GUSSIE ROBINSON OF FORT WORTH ARRESTED.

THE CHARGE IS MURDER

Causes a Revival of Interest in the Recent Killing of Arthur Hodges Who Was Shot in Head—Girl Shot in the Arm.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 23.—A surprise was sprung tonight at 7 o'clock when Deputy Sheriff Charles Ewalt arrested Miss Gussie Robinson on a grand jury indictment charging her with the murder of Arthur Hodges in this city four weeks ago last Saturday night. The woman was placed in the female ward of the county jail and instructions were issued by County Attorney R. E. L. Roy and Sheriff Tom Ward that no one be allowed to communicate with her in any manner. The entry made on the register when the arrest was made reads: "Gussie Robinson, alias Norman, murder." It is probable that steps will be taken tomorrow to have an examining trial.

The killing of Arthur Hodges, who was an employee of the Fort Worth branch office of the Waterbury Oil Company, aroused more excitement in this city than any tragedy since that of March 22, when County Attorney Jefferson D. McLean was instantly killed and William Thompson and Harold Scott received wounds that proved fatal.

Hodges and Miss Robinson were sitting on the tracks of the International and Great Northern Railroad, about three hundred yards south of the East Terrell avenue crossing, shortly after midnight four weeks ago last Saturday, when Hodges died as the result of a pistol wound in the head. Miss Robinson, with a severe wound in the arm went to a telephone and reported the murder to the police department. Eph Cone, Night Captain of Police, Mounted Officer Samuel McGlothlin and Sheriff Tom Wood, accompanied by Justice T. G. Mahan, at once went to the place and the body was removed to an undertaking establishment and later shipped to Fort Worth, Texas, for burial where the parents of Hodges reside. A few days later Justice Mahan rendered a verdict that Hodges came to his death at the hands of an unknown person or persons.

Miss Robinson was taken to her home soon after the tragedy, and for more than three weeks suffered from the effects of the wound, a nervous breakdown and an attack of fever. Statements secured a few moments after the death of Hodges were that he and the woman were sitting on the tracks when two men, with coat collars turned up and hats pulled down, approached them, ordered them to throw up their hands and then fired on them. Two negroes who came north on the railroad told the officers that two men passed them in a telling them to get out of their way, and one of them was carrying a hat in his hand. When the authorities removed the body of Hodges from the scene of the tragedy his hat and a pistol that he is known to have had on his person were missing, a watch had been taken and his pockets turned and a sum of money not believed to have been over $15 was also missing. Many advanced the theory of robbery, others expressed different beliefs, and several officers were detailed on the case, but without result.

The nearest official action to an arrest was about a week later when the detectives took a certain person to the City Hall and propounded many questions preparatory to swearing out a warrant, but developments were in favor of the person under surveillance and a release from custody was the order.

Public interest in the case was not so manifest a few days ago, but has been revived by the arrest of Miss Robinson, and tonight there is much discussion of the case.

Miss Robinson was taken from her home to the jail in a buggy, and walked into the prison carefully guarding her wounded arm against any further injury.

EXPECT CARNEGIE TO PAY.
Peace Envoys Think He Will Foot Their Bills.

The Hague, July 23.—Some very amusing stories are going the rounds here in connection with the peace congress.

One of the best of the stories told is to the effect that the extortions of the Holland hotel keepers have been such that the delegation of a certain South American Republic on seeing its first week's bill decided to advise its government to withdraw from the conference and build a battleship instead, as being on the whole cheaper.

Another pleasing legend is to the effect that the representatives of one of the smaller "powers" have been living beyond their means and paying no attention to their bills as far as worrying about them is concerned, being under the impression that all deficiencies will be "made good" by Mr. Carnegie. The laughing statement is made that when the day of reckoning and awakening comes the "Power" will be forced to go into the hands of a receiver and through an international bankruptcy court in order to dodge payment of the hotel bills.

When there is the slightest indication of indigestion, heart burn, flatulence or any form of stomach trouble take a little Kodol occasionally and you will get prompt relief. Sold by Hoffman Drug Co.
